

Jesus Clears the Temple Court

Bible Verse

He told them, “The Scriptures say, ‘My house should be called a place of worship.’ But you have turned it into a place where robbers hide.” (Matthew 21:13)

Teacher Enrichment

This is the second lesson in the Lent series which explores the Biblical account of the week between Palm Sunday and Easter. As both human and divine, Jesus is our best example of what God wants us to be like as humans. This series examines how Jesus lived and the choices He made for His life.

When Jesus arrived at the temple in Jerusalem He found a bustling marketplace instead of a house of worship and He was angry. But let's step back a bit and think about how it got to this point. Worshippers were likely travelling and may not have been able to bring their own sacrifices. So why not offer animals for sale? Anyone coming from a foreign land might not have the correct money denominations. Why not offer a money changing service? It all sounds fine until greed sets in and merchants begin to take advantage of their captive market by raising prices (think $8 popcorn at the movie theater) or selling inferior products. What started as providing a service has now turned to something disrespectful of God's house. By clearing the temple court, Jesus shows His extreme displeasure with those who have strayed so far from church being a sacred and holy place. We may not be selling sacrificial animals in the narthex today, but it is still possible to worship badly. Just as Jesus cleared the temple, we must periodically examine our own worship approach to ensure we haven't strayed from God's intentions for His house. At times we can miss the point and worship to serve our own ends rather than God's. Respecting God's house is not only about our outward behavior, but also about the state of our hearts and minds as we worship and fellowship.

In this lesson children will learn that church is a special, holy place and God expects us to show respect while we are here. Children will explore actions and mindsets for church that please God.

The Lesson

SUPPLIES: In God's House pictures cards, Things that Belong craft (church, door cutout, items strip), glue, crayons/markers, scissors

- ◆ Gather all the children in a circle on the carpet. As you are able, sit on the floor with them or use a chair as part of the circle.

SAY: In today's story, some people were not respecting God's church. Jesus was angry because He knew the temple was a special, holy place. Jesus wanted them to respect the temple.

SAY: Jesus wants us to do the same thing today. He wants us to be respectful when we come to church. Church should be a place to worship God and learn about God. We should be thinking about God. We should be thoughtful of others. We should try to learn all we can. We should behave ourselves and not be disrespectful. I'm going to show you some pictures of people in church. We will decide together if the picture would make God happy or unhappy.

Show each picture and determine as a class if it shows respectful or disrespectful actions.

SAY: When we come to church, Jesus wants us to show respect to God. It makes God happy when we respect His house – the church. We learned about a lot of things that DO belong in church! Today we will make a craft to help us remember some of them.

- ◆ Show children the sample craft. Demonstrate how the doors open.
- ◆ Provide each child with a “Things that Belong” church, door cutout and image strip.
- ◆ Direct children to cut out the images and glue them to the church. They may place them inside the door or around the church.
- ◆ Direct children to cut out and attach the door.
- ◆ Children may color and decorate their church as desired.

Closing

- ◆ Lead the children in a closing prayer. You may say your own prayer, ask one of the children to say a prayer or use the one below.

God,

Thank you for providing Jesus as an example. Help us be respectful when we come to church.

Amen

- ◆ If time remains before parents arrive, encourage children to return to their Jesus Clears the Temple coloring page if they did not complete it. Also encourage conversation between children and with you. This is another opportunity to build relationships with the children in your classroom!
